Queensland Mining & Energy Bulletin (QMEB) communicates through digital, print and social media to a combined readership of >82,500 mining and energy industry personnel and suppliers on a daily, weekly and quarterly basis. With an exciting range of media platforms, we engage mining and energy audiences through quality content delivered on the right platform to the right personnel at the right time. Our audience distribution goal is simple, to ensure effective distribution to 96% of mining and energy operations throughout the sunshine state & NSW. Something that our competitors would only dream about.

Our content aims to provide key resources, knowledge and information to assist readers to adapt to a rapidly changing mining and energy industry. We create opportunities for industry engagement from professionals and suppliers and aim to addvalue to Queensland mining operations. Coal mining, metalliferous mining, coal seam gas as well as the ever growing renewables sector are key components of our content plans.

We are Queensland's own independent leading voice for the mining and energy industry providing coverage of key projects, industry developments, innovations in technology and methodologies from around the world. Produced in Queensland by Queenslanders it is unashamedly focused around adding value to the state's most important sector.

We distribute to mining and energy professionals on the ground at sites throughout Queensland and Australia. We also extend our reach to key personnel associated with Queensland mining operations in Head Offices throughout Australia. Directors, Site Senior Executives, Mining Managers, Project Managers, Drilling Superintendents, Operations Managers, HSE Managers, Procurement Officers and On-Site Personnel are the key readership of the platforms that we have created.

Our print and e-magazines are also distributed at key industry events and conferences throughout Queensland ensuring that our audience is growing as the industry evolves.

We are the Queensland Mining & Energy Bulletin.
